Buddhist Forest Monasteries and Meditation Centres in Sri Lanka

A Guide for Foreign Buddhist Monastics and Lay Practitioners

Updated: April 2013

Introduction

In Sri Lanka there are many forest hermitages and meditation centres suitable for foreign Buddhist monastics or for experienced lay Buddhists. The following information is particularly intended for Western bhikkhus, those who aspire to become bhikkhus, and those who are experienced lay practitioners. Another guide is available for less experienced, short term visiting lay practitioners. It is called: Information about Meditation Centres in Sri Lanka and is available from the Buddhist Publication Society website at http://www.bps.lk/library_other_publi.php.

Factors such as climate, food, noise, standards of monastic discipline (vinaya), dangerous animals and accessibility have been considered regarding the places listed in this work.

Country, climate & food

The greatest concentration of forest monasteries is on the western side of the country, especially in Kurunegala, Colombo, Galla, and Matarà districts. Due to the protracted armed conflict with Tamil insurgents, which ended in May 2009, there are very few active forest monasteries in the northern and eastern districts, although there are ruins of ancient monasteries in many places. However, since the conflict ended there has been unprecedented economic growth and development throughout the country, and some of these monasteries are now being redeveloped, most notably Kudumbigala. In the higher mountain areas such as Nuwara Eliya there are also few monasteries because the Sinhalese often find it too cold there.

The area where a monastery or meditation centre is located gives a good indication as to its climate. In the south-western low country the climate is tropical, i.e., hot and humid, especially in March/April, rather like a steam-sauna. The Eastern low country has a dry season between May and October. The South West (roughly between Matarà, Colombo, and Ratnapura) is the so-called “wet-zone” where two monsoons a year take place (May-June, November-December). The so-called “dry-zone” (This is quite an exaggeration as it can rain very heavily there during the rainy seasons and floods occur regularly.) is in the East, North, and South. This area starts about 15 kms north of Matale, at the eastern and southern edges of the hill country (such as the eastern slopes of the Knuckles range), and east of Balangoda and Tangalle. Only one main monsoon (November-December) takes place there. The deep South (the coastal area between Ambalantota and Pânama) and the far North (Northern coast & Jaffna peninsula) are the driest areas in SL. It can be quite warm here but it is not as humid as the low-country wet zone. The “upcountry” is the hill and mountain area in the centre of Sri Lanka (roughly between Matale, Kegalla, Balangoda, Haputale, and Badulla). The climate there is temperate and it can get cool at night. (10–22°C depending on the altitude and time of the year. In Nuwara Eliya the temperature can drop to close to freezing point in clear nights in December–January.) For Westerners it is generally a more agreeable climate than the low country. In the south-west upcountry areas such as the Singhârâja rainforest and the Sri Pada Wilderness areas it rains a lot, and most of the year, so much so that it sometimes can be impossible to dry one’s clothes for days after washing.

Loudspeakers can be quite a disturbance in Sri Lanka, as in Asia in general. There are only a few places which completely escape the sound of the Paritta-chanting blasted from village-temples on Poya-days.

The food is generally the same everywhere and at all times in Sinhalese areas. It is usually fairly plain and simple. Rice is the staple food. The curries can be quite spicy, with chilli peppers and other spices. In rural areas food tends to be more spicy than in towns. In the towns food generally is nutritious but in poor rural areas it can be far less so due to overcooking and lack of fresh vegetables and fruits. It might be a good idea to take a vitamin supplement if one finds that the food is not nutritious enough. Many people in Sri Lanka don’t eat meat or fish. In some monasteries and meditation centres small amounts of fish might be served (meat or eggs are rarely given), but if one is a vegetarian one can easily refuse without offending anyone.

Vinaya & monastic traditions

The standards of discipline (vinaya) vary from tradition to tradition, and from monastery to monastery. In Sri Lanka there is not such a strong tradition of refined teacher- and monastery-etiquette as there is in the Thai Forest traditions. The Gâlûvà Forest Tradition has the strictest vinaya tradition in Sri Lanka and it also follows the commentarial interpretations strictly. In forest monasteries and meditation centres that are not affiliated with the
The Galdūva tradition, the vinaya standards are generally less strict, but still reasonable. In many city and village temples and monks’ schools (pirivenas) (not listed in this work) the vinaya-standards can be low. Usually the tradition a monastery or meditation centre belongs to is mentioned as it gives an indication of what the vinaya standards and customs are like in a place. There are many traditions in Sri Lanka. The main ones are:

The Kalyāṇa Togāshrayama Samśthāva or Galdūva tradition is an independent part of the Rāmana Nikāya. The headquarters is in Galdūva, near Ambalangoda. It is the largest forest sect in Sri Lanka. Now there are about 150 centres affiliated with this tradition. The monks are usually requested to reordain at Galdūva. Until recently, the procedure would be to do a dāhiḥkamma, a short ceremony intended to reconfirm the original upasāmpadā in accordance with the Galdūva standards, but reportedly this is not done in most places now. Monks who ordained in a Pa Auk monastery in Burma or in a monastery in the Ajahn Chat tradition are accepted and don’t require a new upasāmpadā.

The Deldūva group is a small group of forest monasteries. It is an older forest division of the Rāmana Nikāya, which is not affiliated with the Galdūva tradition.

The Mahāvihāra Yamātika Shyāmāpāli Vannāśa Nikāya or Vaturavilā group has over 80 branch monasteries throughout the country. The Vinaya standards are not as strict as in the Galdūva group, but are generally reasonable. Only members of the Sinhalese high caste are accepted for upasāmpadā and, judging from the population of Vaturavilā monasteries, it appears that many of them are elderly, retired men. The headquarters are in Vaturavilā in Gālla district.

Medakada group is a sub-sector of the Vaturavilā group that follows stricter Vinaya standards has its headquarters in Madakada Aranya near Ingiyira.

The Vajirāma Tradition or Dharmarakṣaīta Chapter is a subsect of the Amarapura Nikāya. Its headquarters are Vajirārama, Bambalapitiya, Colombo 4 and Dharmāyatana Bhikkhu Training Centre, Maharagama, Colombo. There are a few forest monasteries with stricter Vinaya standards connected with this tradition, notably Bovālavatta Aranya (Kandy), Katu Pota Aranya (Mihintale), Senanāyakārāmaya (Kandy), Island Hermitage (Polgasduwa) and Parapaduwa (Gāla).

The Kanduboda group or Sayādin Nikāya chapter of the Amarapura Nikāya is a group of monasteries connected to the Kanduboda International Meditation Centre and with Sumantiphala Meditation Centre. It originates from the Mahasi Sayadaw tradition, which is part of the Burmese Sayādin Nikāya. The Mahasi Sayadaw meditation technique is practised. It has reasonable standards of Vinaya. There are about twenty small meditation centres connected to this tradition in and near towns but most have little to attract foreigners.

The Tapovana group or Kalyāṇaṃvasa chapter of the Amarapura Nikāya is a small group of semi forest monasteries usually situated near major towns. The headquarters are near Colombo. Usually the Mahāsi meditation method is practised. The monks have reasonable Vinaya standards.

The Mahāmāvāna group. A rapidly growing new tradition, or rather movement, centred around and led by the popular Dhamma teacher Venerable Kiribathgoda Nānānanda. In June 2004, Ven. Nānānanda together with 45 other novice disciples received the Upasāmpadā and in 2005 another 40 became bhikkhus. They follow a strict practice of the Dhamma and Vinaya with an emphasis on studying the Suttas and Vinaya rather than the Abhidhamma and Commentaries. There is meditation in the monasteries, but the main emphasis of Ven. Nānānanda is missionary activity, i.e., to spread the Dhamma and set up new monasteries, which has led to some problems and breakaways due to lack of experience of the often young and recently ordained monks and teachers.

At the time of writing there are 48 branch monasteries connected with this tradition, including 9 overseas, 6 for nuns (anagarikas) and more are being set up all the time. There are some monasteries which could be classified as forest monasteries, with kutis in regrowth forest, but most are in village and town areas and all are crowded. The monasteries are well kept and the monks, who are usually young and well educated, are diligent and motivated.

The headquarters is Mahāmāvāna Asāpuva near Kegalla. The first upasāmpadā ceremony was carried out through the Kalyāṇaṃvasa branch of the Amarapura Nikāya. Without permission from Ven. Nānānanda one can only stay 3 days at these monasteries.

Information on the formation and history of the forest traditions in Sri Lanka can be found in Michael Carrithers’ book The Forest Monks of Sri Lanka, Oxford 1983.

Culture, manners

Western monks are usually regarded well by Sinhalese laypeople as they have not gone forth for cultural or economic reasons, but out of a sincere desire to practice the Dhamma. Generally, western monks are welcome anywhere and travelling western monks are normally welcome to stay in any monastery for the night. Even if there is no monastery in a village, one can stay in the school or some other empty building. For longer stays in a monastery, one needs to ask permission from the abbot and it is normally readily granted if there is space.

In some places the Sinhalese monks might not be so helpful due to negative experiences with non-adaptive Westerners, or due to nationalistic feelings and dislike of foreigners, which is understandable because Sri Lanka has been colonized by three European nations for hundreds of years. There have also been recent issues that led to anti-foreign feelings, caused by foreign reactions to the armed conflict in the North and East. What apparently can also happen is that Sinhalese people misperceive a Western monk’s reservedness as racist dislike for their skin colour. This is difficult to avoid as Sinhalese people tend to be very open and inquisitive, approaching one on the street and asking where one is going, how many brothers and sisters one has, and so on, and after a while one can develop a habit of being reserved. However, it is good to make an effort to remain polite and not to appear harsh.

Bhikkhus generally do not get showered with requisites in Sri Lanka and are not honoured in the same manner as in Thailand or Burma. Therefore bhikkhus from Thailand have to get used to things to which they are not accustomed. The body language and the way Sinhalese people and monks speak and behave might appear disrespectful to monks used to the Thai or Burmese customs.

Although Sinhalese people themselves can be critical about the problems in their country, as a foreigner one generally has to be careful not to say anything. It is better not to comment on or discuss the recently ended conflict in the North, politics, and foreign relations. Coming from an organized and outgoing culture, one will notice things that can be improved in monasteries, etc., but one has to be careful not to develop an overly critical attitude, which can easily happen. Sinhalese people, and Asians in general, are generally quite indirect and are afraid of blame. If one points out a mistake to someone, then normally the recipient will pass on the blame to someone else. Westerners, often due to their Protestant background, also tend to be critical of Sinhalese rituals and tend to avoid evening chanting, offering food to the Buddha image, etc., which Sinhalese monks are usually keen on due to their upbringing. This avoidance tends to set one apart so it is best to join in occasionally for the sake of harmony.

In general one can be, and needs to be, independent in Sri Lanka. If one likes to practice independently and is not looking for a charismatic teacher figure or tightly knit monastic group to support one’s practice, then Sri Lanka may be suitable. Sinhalese culture, being part of the Indian cultural sphere, allows more individualism than the conformist Thai culture, which is part of the Chinese cultural sphere. Sinhalese leave space to others and there is not such a strong teacher-tradition in Sri Lanka as in Thailand. Nevertheless, there are monks, nuns, and lay practitioners who can give useful instructions and help one along the way.

Travel & communication

Sri Lanka is a great place to practice renunciation, patience, simplicity, and humility. Conditions in meditation centres and monasteries can be very basic and sometimes uncomfortable for those used to comforts. Meditation centres and monasteries are not so well off in Sri Lanka and only a few of them will have a vehicle. One has to get used to taking public transport or walking when one wants to go somewhere. Bhikkhus who don’t use money can use special coupons with which one can travel on government buses (known as CTB, Ceylon Transport Board). The monastery one stays in can usually supply these.

Sri Lanka used to be a British colony and there are many Sinhalese people who can speak English well, especially in Colombo and other big towns. However, in remote country areas it can be more difficult to find English speakers. Nevertheless, in almost every village there will be (or is supposed to be) an English teacher in the village school who will be keen to practise his English and can help with translating if necessary. In the bigger meditation centres and monasteries there is usually someone who can speak English, but in the more remote and smaller monasteries this might not be the case. It is not difficult to learn spoken Sinhala and people are usually helpful and understanding. Many English or rather “Singlish” terms have made their way into the Sinhala language, for example a bus stop is called “bus halt” a “bus station” a “bus stand,” and one “gets down” from a bus rather than getting off or out of it. If one uses such information one is more likely to be understood. All people have learnt a bit of English at school, so if there is no other way one can try with simple English terms.

Medical care & diseases

The medical care in government hospitals is free for monks in Sri Lanka. There are bhikkhu-wards in the larger hospitals for those bhikkhus who are seriously ill. Medical care and hygiene are generally not of the same standards as in the West, but the doctors usually do their best to help sick bhikkhus. There are quite a few doctors and dentists who have trained and worked in the West. The monastery one is connected with will help if one needs medicines or medical care. The best hospitals are the large private hospitals in Colombo, but they are expensive. The same doctors who work in the private hospitals also work in government hospitals, but the equipment and facilities in government hospitals are often of a lesser standard, especially in rural hospitals. Dentists often help monks for free. There are some good dentists in Sri Lanka, some of whom were trained in the West.

Unlike some other tropical countries, tropical diseases are not so common because the government healthcare system is fairly well organised. However, in some urban areas, especially in and around Colombo, there are cases of dengue fever (called “dengu”) and chikungunya fever, and, to a much lesser degree, Japanese encephalitis. In some South-western coastal areas there is a small risk of contracting the filarial parasite that causes elephantiasis. All these diseases are spread by mosquitoes. In rural areas in the north, northeast, and east there is a small chance of contracting malaria, which is also spread by mosquitoes. It is therefore always good to use mosquito nets and inflammatory, analgesic

If there is an inflamed lesion, the bite may be very painful. The best treatment is to apply a combination of antiseptic, anti-inflammatory, analgesic and soothing ingredients as are available in pharmacies. Note that the malaria mosquito tends to bite early in the evening, while the dengue fever mosquito bites during the daytime in shady places. The drinking water is generally of good quality in Sri Lanka; nevertheless, it is always safer to drink boiled, filtered or bottled water.

There is rabies in Sri Lanka and one should go to the local hospital for anti-rabies shots if one is bitten by a dog, stray cat, (fruit-) bat, or by a macaque monkey. The Sinhalese are well aware of the danger of rabies and many dogs are vaccinated against it. Every major hospital has an anti-rabies clinic where one can get the vaccination-shots, which nowadays are completely painless and without side effects.

There are also cases of leptospirosis or Weil's disease, which is transmitted by rats' urine in contaminated water or on softdrink cans. It can also be transmitted on surfaces such as floors or through contaminated water in paddy fields by way of cuts on the skin.

Intestinal pinworms or threadworms are common in Sri Lanka. These usually harmless creatures are spread through food, particularly raw vegetables, touched by the unwashed hands of an infected person. The symptom of their presence is itching in the anal area at night. The pinworms will go away by themselves within a few days if one does not reinfect oneself. One needs to regularly wash one's hands and bottom with soap, especially at night and in the morning. If this does not work, a Vermox anti-worm tablet will get rid of them. Other types of worms are quite rare in Sri Lanka as no raw meat and fish is eaten.

Dangerous animals

Compared to some other tropical areas such as South America or Africa, Sri Lankan nature is benevolent; however there are creatures that one has to be wary of. In many undeveloped jungle areas in the South, East, and North, such as around Ritigala, Kudumbigala, Sithulpahuwa, Rājagala and even Sigiriya, there are wild elephants and bears which regularly attack and kill people. Monks have been attacked by these beasts and one has to take care when in or near jungle areas, especially at night. The best thing to do when an elephant charges is to run away in a zigzag manner and hide behind a tree or rock. Elephants can run very quickly in a straight line, much quicker than humans, but have difficulties turning. The bear is considered the most unpredictable and dangerous animal by the Sinhalese. People have been killed or badly maimed by them in forest areas. They are good climbers and runners. If one cannot escape, then fall face down on the ground with one's arms spread out and pretend to be dead. The bear will normally want to mauл one's face and neck, but if one lies face down and with the arms spread out so that the bear cannot turn one over, then the injuries will be on the back of the head and neck where they are less dangerous. Wild pigs are also known to charge at people and one had better keep away from them. Leopards are very shy and only attack people very rarely. They are not considered a danger.

There are various dangerous snakes such as cobras, Russell's vipers, and kraits in Sri Lanka and many people are killed each year due to snakebites, especially by Russell's vipers and kraits. So take care when going off paths into the jungle, etc. Kraits are nocturnal snakes and often bite people while they sleep. The snake is attracted to the body heat of a sleeping person and it may bite when the person turns over in his sleep. Cobras are shy and will only bite when cornered. Vipers, however, will often not move at all when one approaches and are much more likely to bite. When bitten by a snake, don't panic, note what kind of snake it is and try to go to a hospital as soon as possible to get antivenin. Don't trust village snake doctors. There are also crocodiles in rivers, lakes and ponds in the south and east of the country so ask a local before bathing.

The bite of the big blue or green scorpions one often encounters after heavy rainfall is painful but not dangerous. On the other hand, centipede bites can be very painful. Tarantula spiders occasionally enter houses, but they rarely bite people unless provoked. Sri Lankan tarantula bites cause partial paralysis and severe pain.

There are also leeches ("kudella") or ticks ("khithulla") in most forest and scrub areas. Leeches are common in humid wet-zone forests, especially on hills and mountains, while ticks are common in dry zone lowland forests. It is rare to have both leeches and ticks in one area. If not treated, leech bites cause bleeding for 10 minutes or more because the leech injects an anti-coagulant into the blood. One will generally not feel the leech bite until the leech has detached and blood starts to flow from the wound. It is best to put tissue, paper or ash on the bite to stop the bleeding. It is easy to remove the leech by pulling or scratching it off. To prevent bites one can avoid going off paths and swept areas into areas with leaves and undergrowth. Putting mosquito repellent, soap, or salt on one's feet will repel them off for a while. There will usually be no itching, unless one is allergic to leech bites. Leeches don't transmit diseases and the bites usually don't become infected. Tick bites are common in dry zone forests, with a lot of tall grasses and shrubs, especially in national parks where there is a lot of wildlife. The tick bites can cause a lot of itching which can last for days, and due to scratching the wounds, the bites can get infected. The ticks can be quite small and difficult to spot and can climb up one's robes to one's abdomen and back of one's head. They generally bite in soft spots such as the upper legs, between the legs, abdomen, etc. Fortunately, they are not known to transmit diseases such as Lyme's disease or other typhus fevers in Sri Lanka. One can avoid them by not going into scrubby areas and washing oneself and one's clothes well with soap if one has done so. If one has been bitten, then it is best to apply a four way action antiseptic cream (which contains a combination of antiseptic, anti-inflammatory, analgesic and soothing ingredients) as are are sold in pharmacies in Australia (Paraderm Plus, Medi Quattro First Aid Cream, Chemmar Antiseptic Cream, etc.). Ticks should never been pulled out straight, which can cause the head to break off and remain embedded, but should be carefully turned around until they let go.

It is advisable to use a mosquito-net in forests and rural areas to keep away kraits and other dangerous creatures such as scorpions, centipedes, and mosquitoes. However, the risk of having a serious traffic accident while walking on the street or, especially, travelling on a bus in Sri Lanka is much greater than that of being bitten or attacked by some dangerous creature in the jungle.

Visas

In Sri Lanka, after an intial 3 month visa, Buddhist monks get a free one year residence visa, which need only be extended annually. Since 2010 one needs to have an entry visa from a Srian Lankan embassy before one enters the country if one wants to later apply for a residence visa. The website of the Sri Lankan immigration states: “To obtain a Residence Visa, it is necessary to arrive in Sri Lanka on an Entry Visa issued by a Sri Lankan Mission abroad with the concurrence of the Controller General of Immigration and Emigration. The fact that you wish to apply for Srian Lankan Residence Visa has to be mentioned when obtaining the entry visa and necessary supporting documents has to be submitted.” The supporting documents one will need to obtain from the abbot of the monastery where one intends to stay. One can enter the country on a one month tourist visa, which needs to be paid for online (US$15) or in cash on entry into the country (US$20). This tourist visa can be extended two times for a further two months, but then one will have to leave the country to apply for a religious residence visa from a Srian Lankan embassy abroad (not necessarily one’s home country). There are no exemptions to this.

In order to apply for a residence visa, one needs to get a sponsorship letter from the senior monk of the monastery where one stays or with which one is connected, then one needs to go with this letter and the so-called “application form to obtain a letter of recommendation to extend the residence visa” (available at monasteries and/or the Ministry of Buddha Sasana and Religious Affairs in Colombo) to the monk who is the secretary of the district (lekhakādhikāri handurudo). If one applies for the first time for a residence visa, then please check whether another form is required from the Ministry of Buddha Sasana rather than the one to extend an existing visa, otherwise one might be turned away at the Ministry of Buddha Sasana. One then needs to get the application form signed by him and stamped with his official seal. (It is best to telephone the secretary monk beforehand and make an appointment. For example, the secretary monk in Kandy is only available certain days of the week.) Then this form needs to be signed and stamped by the secretary of the Provincial Council (Kacceri). (Note that if one still has a passport photo as a laymen in one’s passport that a passport photo as a monk will need to be attached to this application. It will also need to be stamped and signed by the district monk and provincial council secretary.) The monastery where one stays will usually help with this. When this preliminary paper work has been done, one can go to the Ministry of Buddha Sasana and Religious Affairs at 135 Dharmapala Mawatha (opposite Vihara Maha Devi Park) in Colombo 7. (Note this is no longer opposite the Lanka Vipassanā Centre) and get a recommendation letter to take to the Department of Immigration. (Don’t forget to ask for a extra application form for next year.) For the first time application for a residence visa, one needs to bring along two or three passport photos. (They can be obtained from a shop at the Dept. of Immigration itself.) The Department of Immigration is now in Maradāna, within walking distance from the Ministry of Buddha Affairs. (No. 41 Ananda Rajakaruna Mawatha, Punchi Borella, Colombo 10. Tel. 011–532–9300.) However, there are plans in the near future to move this Department to Battaramulla, which is an outer suburb about a 45 minute/1 hour bus ride from central Colombo. At the Ministry of Buddha Sasana and Religious Affairs one generally has to wait less than one hour. At the Immigration Department usually one and a half hours, perhaps more. The Immigration Department might ask one to come back in a few days. If you live in a forest monastery some distance from Colombo one can ask if it is possible to get the visa the same day (usually it takes about 2 hours). One can go to the Ministry of Buddha Sasana and Religious Affairs in the morning and go the Immigration in the afternoon.

Conclusion

There are many monasteries listed in this guide, but when one has seen a couple of monasteries connected to different traditions, in a different areas of the country, then one has an idea of what all of them will roughly be like. There is no perfect place in saṃsāra and as long as one is not liberated from mental defilements one will sooner or later start to find fault with a monastery which at first appeared to be great. There is no monastery which is perfectly quiet and where the monks are all arahants. So, this guide is not intended as a guide to find the perfect place, as a bible for restless monks. There was one user of this guide who went to many of the forest monasteries in this guide but still could not find the perfect conditions he was seeking. So rather than trying to find the perfect external place, which does not exist, it is more realistic to be content with an imperfect place and learn to deal with the defilements that come up in one’s mind. Nevertheless, there are particular conditions such as climate and food which affect each person differently and this guide can be used to find a place which matches one’s physical constitution and temperament. It can also be used when travelling or going on cārikā, a walking journey, so that one can walk from forest monastery to forest monastery or stay in other places with a reasonable vinaya practice.

Transliteration & Pronunciation

The transliteration of Sinhala characters has been added if known and considered useful. This makes it easier to pronounce place names and make oneself understood by the local people, which is not always easy. It is also recommended to use a map with Roman and Sinhala scripts so if one is not understood one can point to the name.

The character æ is pronounced as the English e in end or a in cat; ẽ is pronounced long drawn like the a in taxi spoken by a New Yorker; a as the a in another; ā as the a in art; ī as the i in ink, ī as the ee in eel; the u as the u in put; the ū as the u in prudent; e as the a in age (but before a consonant cluster, as in end, it is the same as æ); ē as the a in ache but drawn out. The o as the o in own (but before a conjunct consonant as in orange). The v/w is pronounced mid-way between the English v and w. The v has been used in this work. For more information on the correct pronunciation of Sinhala, see p. ix ff of An Introduction to Spoken Sinhala by W.S. Karunatillake, and the “Guide to Pronunciation” in The Forest Monks of Sri Lanka by Michael Carrithers.

In printed roman script maps and street-name boards, etc., the v will usually be printed as w, e and e as e, i as ee. Long vowels will be given as short vowels (e.g., ā as a).

This paper is based on a basic list of monasteries made 15 years ago. It was then made into a guide by Ven. Netherlands Nyanatusita. Several monks helped with proofreading and updating this guide. For the current 2013 edition Ven. Nissaraño has especially been of great help and offered many suggestions.

Updates

To help keep this list current, accurate and relevant please send suggestions and information (contact details, abbot’s name, no. of monks, facilities, no. kutis, condition, etc., affiliation, etc.), from your own experience, to: Bhikkhu Nyanatusita, Forest Hermitage, Udawattekele, PO Box 61, Kandy, Sri Lanka. Best places for those who are new to Sri Lanka

Nā Uyana AS. Pansiyagama 60554. Tel: 037 337 9036, 037 494 3688 or 037567 7328. Email: nauyana@gmail.com. The website: www.http://nauyana.org gives useful information. To get there get off at Melsiripura on the Kurunāgala–Dambulla Rd, from there take bus to Pansiyagama. From there it is a 30 min. walk. The meditation teacher is Ven. Ariyananda Thera, who speaks good English and has an excellent knowledge of the Pa Auk Samatha and Vipassanā methods. Good kutis, library and facilities. Strict adherence to Vinaya (monastic discipline). There is a meditative atmosphere and the place is reasonably well organised and tidy. At the moment it is the most prominent meditation place in the Galdāva Saṃsthāva. Many foreign bhikkhus, Western as well as Asian, mostly Taiwanese, are staying here. The monastery area covers thousands of acres of hill slopes and there are four monastery sections: The old monastery where theuposatha hall is located in the valley. The meditation retreat section, with its own meditation hall, is located on top of the hill. Behind this, further to the North-east there is a retreat section, where monks can dwell in kutis in seclusion and have their own dana sala down the hill to the east. The fourth section, down the hill to the west of the retreat section, near the village of Endagala, is an “ascetic” section, with a few simple mud kutis. The central area of the monastery consists of an ancient monastery with a few caves and a beautiful forest with many big ironwood trees (Nā trees). This area was a small forest monastery from the 1960s until 1996, after which it became a meditation centre in the Pa Auk tradition. The hills to the north of this area, where many kulis have been built, are being reforested. There are about one hundred monks and 30 laypeople present, but because the monastery is so large and divided into different sections it does not feel crowded. There is a separate nunnery for female practitioners, called Dhammika Ashramaya, a few kilometers away.

Nissarana Vanaya or Mitirigala A. Mitirigala (Meetirigala) 11742. Tel: 033-492-1135/ 033-333-9193. Email: nissaranavanaya@gmail.com Website: nissarana.lk A large, 100 hectare, forest monastery 30 kms east of Colombo. Founded in 1968. About 15 resident monks. The meditation teacher, Ven. Dhammadiva, speaks excellent English and meditated for a long time with Sayādaw U Panḍita in Burma. He mostly teaches Mahāsī method. For the past few years he has been teaching overseas for extensive periods outside the Rains Retreat. Ven. Dhammadumṣi, the second monk, also speaks good English and teaches samatha meditation. The library has a good English section. Strict standards of Vinaya. In May 2012 there was much building in progress, including some new kulis. Dense low-country jungle on a hill. Humid and hot climate; some leeches. Good support and food by Sri Lankan standards. Sometimes some loudspeaker noise from the village. The Dhammadātana (see entry in “The Area Around Colombo” Section) is on the hill next to Nissarana Vanaya, a 25 minute walk away. From Colombo take a Kirindiwela Bus at Central Bus stand in Pita Kotuwa (Pettah). The bus leaves close to the Bodhi tree outside the station. In Kirindiwella, ask for a bus to Ranvalla or Vedagama, get off at Mitirigala. It’s a 25 min. walk from the bus-stop to monastery. It is also possible to get off at Pallegama Junction (between Kirindiwela and Pāgoda) and catch buses to Mitirigala Junction. (Don’t take the bus to Amitirigala which is further away. If coming from the Ratanapura side, one can take a bus to Amitirigala from Avissavella and ask the driver to stop at the Mitirigala junction. It is about 40 minutes walk from there. If coming from Kandy, take a Colombo bus and get off at Nītambuva, then go to Kirindiwela, etc.)

Bovalavatta A. or University Forest Solitude (or Vajirārāma A.), Bovalavatta, Hantāna, nr. Kandy. (081 380 9210). In a large forest (previously a tea-estate) on the mountain above Perādeniya University (1 hour’s walk). About 8 kms from Kandy town. Very quiet. Approx. 15 kulis. Neat, clean, and orderly. Cool climate. In the rainy seasons it can be quite humid, with many leeches. Many western monks have stayed here. There is no teacher. Affiliated to the Vajirārāma group Dharmarakshita chapter of the Amarapura Nikāya. Reasonable Vinaya. At the Kandy Clock tower station take a Bovalavatta bus. The conductors will know the place where you should get off. From there follow the signs.

Sumantipihala BM. Hībatgala Rd, Kanduboda, Delgoda. Tel: 011–240-2805. This new meditation centre opened in 2003 on the land right next to Kanduboda VMC (see next entry) and has overtaken it in terms of importance for Westerners. The abbot and teacher is Ven. Premasiri, a popular and experienced teacher in the Mahāsī tradition as well as other traditional meditation techniques. He is helpful and friendly to foreigners and gives Damma talks, which are translated into English. He used to teach at Kanduboda VMC and then at Lanka Vipassana Centre in Colombo. A book of his teachings called Walking the Tightrope has been published by the Buddhist Publication Society. The place is mainly for laypeople, but foreign monks, especially Czech, stay here too. At present there are about 6 foreign monks. A few Westerners have become monks here recently. The female yogis and nuns have their own separate areas. The facilities are nice and spacious. Lay people have built many kutis and the place looks a bit like a village. There are no trees. Warm and humid climate. It is close to a small road and surrounded by coconut plantations and a few village houses. It is about 20 kms east of Colombo. From the CTB Bus Station at Olcott Mawatha, Pita Kotuwa (Pettah), take the bus no. 224 which stops outside the Kanduboda VMC monastery.

Kanduboda VMC or Siyaneey VMC. Kanduboda, Delgođa. Tel. 011–244-5518; 011–257-0306. E-mail: bhavanam@sl.net.lk A meditation centre and monastery with a long tradition of offering meditation instruction to Westerners. Besides monks and nuns, also lay meditators are welcome and some take ordination here. The abbot and teacher at present is Ven. Piyaaratana Thera. Women have a separate, enclosed area, and ordination has sometimes been given for western women (which may interest potential dasa-sil-menayos). A few large buildings with rooms and some kutis. The teaching is in the Mahāsī tradition and the monastery arose out of Mahāsī tradition Sayādaws teaching here in the 1950s or 1960s. Although the tradition is part of the Amarapura Nikāya, it has a separate ordination lineage, originating from the Swejyin Nikāya of Burma (to which Mahāsī Sayādaw belonged). The daily schedule and discipline is more relaxed than in the Mahāsī centres in Burma; there is more individual meditation than group meditation. Kanduboda has more than 25 branches throughout the country. Most have little to attract Westerners. The directions are the same as for Sumantipihala BM (see previous entry).

Dhammakāṭṭa VMC. Mowbray, Galaha Road, Hindagala, Perādeniya. (Nr. Kandy) Mailing address: c/o Mrs Damayanti Ratwatte. Tel.: 081–238-5774 or 081–383-7800. email: info@kuta.dhamma.org Website: www.kuta.dhamma.org. A meditation centre where 10–day Vipassanā Meditation courses are given in the tradition of Sayagi U Ba Khin, as taught by S.N. Goenka. In an abandoned tea estate on a mountain slope. Beautiful views and cool climate. Meditation courses, in English as well as Sinhala, are held here. One cannot stay here outside of retreat periods. It is better to book well in advance as the courses are often fully booked. Course information and applications forms are available online. It has places for six monks at each course and once a year, in November or December, there is a course for bhikkhus only. It is important to bring all basic personal requisites such as towels, bed-sheets, soap, mosquito repellent, vitamins, medicines, torch, alarm-clock, etc. Located about 5 kms from Peradeniya towards the south. From Kandy, take a Galaha bus. Another Goenka Vipassanā Centre, called Dhammasobha VMC, has been opened near Avissavella, and another large one near Anuradhapura called Dhamma Anuradha see Colombo/ Avissavella and Anuradhapura sections below.

Nilambe Meditation Centre. Mahakanda, Galaha Road, Peradeniya. (Mr. Upul Gamage: upunilambe@yahoo.com Web site: info@nilambe.net) The major lay-meditation centre in Sri Lanka for western travellers and spiritual seekers. Both male and females can stays here. Occasionally a monk is visiting or staying here for a while, but it is a place for lay-people. There is a Rs 800/- a day charge for lodgings and food. (Not for monks.) There is a strict daily schedule and little talking. It is located in tea-estate-country on a mountain-top. Quiet area. Cool, wet climate, with many leeches. Scenic views. Relaxed and friendly atmosphere. Godwin Samararate, the respected and internationally known meditation teacher, who passed away in early 2000, was long connected to this place. The resident teacher is Mr. Upul Gamage. Other teachers also come occasionally. It is best to book by email beforehand. It is located about 20 kms south of Kandy. When Mr. Upul is away most people leave and there might be no one who can speak English. From Kandy take a bus or taxi. By bus: take a Delthota bus from Goodshed Bus Stand (near the train station) and get off at Office/ Nilambe Bungalow junction (17km from Kandy). From there it is a steep 45 min. walk (or taxi/three wheeler ride) through tea plantations. Gates are open from 6am to 5pm only.

Complete List

Colombo City

The capital of Sri Lanka hot, humid, noisy and polluted, but still more agreeable than most cities in Asia.

Pagoda Meditation Centre. 49/2, 1st Cross Street, Pagoda Road, Nuwega. Tel: 011–281-2397 (8am-9am, 8pm-9pm only). Email: olandeananda@gmail.com Website: http://groups.msn.com/PagodaMeditationCentre. A centre started a few years ago by Ven. Olanda Ananda, a well-known senior Dutch monk who speaks fluent Sinhala and has been teaching meditation for a long time in Sri Lanka and abroad. There are meditation retreats held by Ven. Ananda and there is accommodation for laypeople. Situated in a quiet area in a suburb of Colombo.

Kanduboda VMC. Delgoda. See Best Places section.

Lanka Vipassanā VMC. 108 Wijerāma Mawatha, Colombo 7. See Best Places section.

Shri Kalyāṇi DA (Formerly known as “German Dharmadīta”), 418/31 Baudhaloka Mawatha, Colombo 07, 00700. (Tel: 011–269-6494) Abbots: Ven. Nanda thera. Main Gāldāva place in Colombo, thus sometimes crowded with visiting and sick monks from all over Sri Lanka. Guest monks normally stay in a dormitory. Strict Vinaya standards, clean and tidy. Between a major road and school, so it can be fairly noisy.

Nārada Centre or International Buddhist Research and Information Centre (IBRIC), 380/9, Sarana Road, Colombo 00700. Tel: 011-268-9388 or 011-536-4115. Email: bhikkhumettavihari@gmail.com or mettavihari@gmail.com. Opposite the back entrance of the BMICH. Connected to Maharagama (see next). It is a small place with a lot of noise and dust from the road. Outsiders usually can’t stay here. The Danish Bhikkhu Mettavihāri can provide useful information to Westerners new to the country, but he is usually only here at night. At other times one might be able to contact him at his Television Studio near Nārada Centre, tel: 011–281-1120. On the ground floor there is a Buddhist bookshop with a wide selection of books

Dharmāyatana Bhikkhu Training Centre or Sri Vajiranyāna Dharmāyatana. Sri Vajiranyāna Mawatha, Maharagama. Tel. 011–285-0305 or 011–285-0207. Usually referred to as Maharagama. A major training-centre, pīrivena, for young Sinhalese monks. There is a “meditation-section” in the back where foreign monks who come to renew their visas occasionally stay. There are over 25 branches throughout the country. A few forest monasteries with stricter vinaya standards are connected to this tradition; Bovalavatta Aranya being the major one. In general it is not a forest tradition though and the emphasis lies on study, teaching, and service.

Sambodhi Vihāra. 106 Wijerāma Mawatha, Colombo 7. Tel. 011–268-9307. Next door to Lanka Vipassanā Meditation Centre; see above. Abbots: Ven. Kusaladhamma. A large 3 story pagoda-like vihāra that was constructed a few years ago, but it is mainly used by laypeople and the employees of the Buddhist Channel television studio. There are usually only one or two monks. Joining in for the frequent outside functions, such as dānas, pirit chanting, and funeral ceremonies of politicians, etc., is expected.

like Ven. Nārada, Soma, Kheminda, and Ven. Piyadassi. There is a good library, which has recently been renovated. Venerable Ānanda, Anunāyaka of the Amarapura Nikāya, who is very capable and friendly, is staying here and is helping to revive this tradition. Vajirāma Group of the Amarapura Nikāya.

Buddhist Cultural Centre (BCC), 125 Anderson Road, Nedimala, Dehiwala. Open all days (including Poya and holidays) from 8.30 am to 5.30 pm. Director: Ven. Vimalajothi theria. This is a comprehensive selection of Buddhist Books. There is a branch-bookshop at the junction of Baudhaloka Mawatha and Sarana Road in the All Ceylon Buddhist Congress compound, and 2 smaller centres, one in Kelaniya, and another near Lake House alongside the cetiya opposite the Hilton. In 2011 a seven-storey multi-purpose building, including a bookshop and conference hall, and information centre, was opened at Jayanthi Madira 32, Sambuddha Jayanthi Mawatha, Colombo 5. Affiliated with the BCC is a meditation centre in Horana outside Colombo, Dekandūvala Dhamma Training Centre, see the next section.

Central Hospital Vajirārāma, Central Hospital, Colombo, 011–269-2018. Small vihāra in the General Hospital. One could eat lunch here when going to the hospital for treatment or when visiting the mortuary.

Police Mortuary. St. Francis St. (Off Kinsey Rd.) It is situated in the small St Francis Street behind the Medical College (which is opposite the SE corner of the General Hospital complex.) This police mortuary is suitable for practising the asubha-kammathāna. Buddhist monks normally do not need to get official permission to enter here and they can walk in and have a look. Otherwise, ask permission from one of the anatomists or the director. The monk at the nearby Central Hospital Vajirāmaya (see above) might be able to help too. Laypeople need to be accompanied by a monk. There is very poor hygiene and one needs to be careful. Don’t go bare-footed into the cutting theaters as there are scalpels and blood, etc., lying on the floor. Afterwards one will need to wash all one’s robes to get rid of the odour. Open every day, but on Saturdays and Sundays only in the morning. Nearby, off Kinsey Road on the backside of the Hospital, is the Hospital Mortuary where autopsies are also done.

Vishva Niketan International Peace Centre. 72/30 Ravanavattē Road, Moratuva. Tel/Fax: 011-265-5653 E-mail: vishvaniketan@mail.ews.lk. Aff. Sarvodaya, a social self-help movement. It is also used by some foreign monks in the case of sickness or business in Colombo. Abbot: Ven. Rahula, is very friendly. Opposite Pan Asia Bank, lane just before Kirimandala Mawatha and large Bodhi tree.\[
\text{There is a tyre shop at the entrance to the lane.}\]

Vipassanā Bhāvanāyatanaya, Sri Jayawardanapura Rajamalwatte, Rajasaba Mawatha, Kotte. Tel. 011–286-3635. Teacher: Ven. Erarola Vipassi. Sri Kavidhaja Vachissara MC, High Level Road, Migoda. VMC. Talagala, Millewa.

Colombo District, Avissawella, and Gampaha.

Due to its proximity to the capital, there are many monasteries in this area. Mostly flatland with some isolated hills, rubber estates and paddypieces. Generally has a hot and humid climate. Listed here are the monasteries and centres in the area about 30 kms around Colombo, although some could have been included in Kegalla district, etc.

Sri Nānārāma Dharmāyatana, Meetirigala 11742. Nr. Kirindivela. On the hill next to Nissarana Vanaya, entrance road starts almost opposite the NV entrance. This place was originally set up to be the largest study and vinaya training centre of the Galdūva group. In the 1990s it was used as a Pa Auk meditation centre for a while. Now, again it is a Galdūva tradition study centre with a dozen monks. At present, Ven. Ariyadhama Thera, the head of the Galdūva group, is staying here. He is highly proficient in the Pa Auk meditation system as well as in the Mahāsi meditation system and is a Tipitaka Bāṇaka, having mastered the Pāli scriptures. He knows and visits all Galdūva monasteries regularly and can give advice about their suitability. Large meditation hall; rooms in a compound, 2 kutis; regrowth forest. Hot and humid climate.

Nissarana Vanaya. See Best Places section above.

Dikhena BM / Sri Lanka Myanmar Pa Auk Meditation Centre. Dikhena, Polgasowita 10320. (Tel: 011–278-0140) Meditation Centre. Facilities for laymen and laywomen. Set in coconut estate near Piliyandala, Kesbeva, south of Colombo. Facilities for about 12 monks. Two-week meditation courses for laymen and laywomen. Excellent meditation hall. Fairly quiet. Kutis/rooms are either close to each other or adjoining. It is reported that the former abbot, Ven. Mithalave Vinita Thera, who teaches Mahāsi Method, left in 2012 and only a few monks remain. Ven. Dassattee Sumanasiila Thera teaches Pa Auk method when visiting. From Colombo take bus No 120 in the direction of Horana. At Polgasowita get off at the petrol station and walk down the road to the centre (10 minutes) or take a three wheeler. At times hot and humid. Aff. Galdūva.

Dekandūvala Meditation Centre or Dhamma Training Centre. Kahatapitiya–Kanavilila, Horana. (Tel: 034–428-6334) Inquiries and bookings should normally be made through Ven. Vimalajothi at the Buddhist Cultural Centre (see above in Colombo section). The place is nicely situated on a hill-top. Both small huts (kutis) and rooms are available for lay-meditators. Good facilities, nice meditation hall, quiet, nice views. Westeners are welcome to stay here. One can stay for two weeks. Since 2003 there has been a program going on here in which young Sinhalese men can take ordination temporarily. About 20 kms south-east of Colombo. There is no charge for the lodgings and food, but donations are appreciated. Sijam Nikāya. Take the 120 bus from Colombo. It is close to the Vidyaratana Pirivena. If traveling from Homagama, Padukka or Horana: get off at the Govipola junction.

Dhammasobha VMC. Balika Vidyala Road, Pahala, Kosgama. Tel: 036-2253755 or 0714182094. Email: info@sobha.dhamma.org. Website: www.sobha.dhamma.org. Along the highway from Colombo to Avissavella. A 6 acre Vippasanā meditation centre in the tradition of Goenkaji. It is much warmer and, due to its proximility to the highway, noisier than Dhammaduṣṭa near Kandy.

Sri Piyandana VMC, Naivala Road, Udugangama, Doranagoda, Gampaha. Quite a large centre—probably has kuṭis. Ven. Visuddhi is the head monk. Westerners have stayed there. Aff. Kanduboda.

Gothama Tapovanaya. Kalapaluveva, Mulleriya-New Town. Tel: 011-286-3826/288-4962. A Buddhist centre established in a humid and hot twelve acres forest three kilometres from the Colombo city limit. A monastery with a Mahāśāri tradition meditation centre and a boy’s orphanage. The abbot is D. Chandrasiri Thera, the Nāyaka Thera of the Kalyāṇavamsa division of the Amarapura Nikāya, to which the Tapovana group and Ven. Kiribathgoda Nānānanda’s Mahāmevnāva group are connected.

Mahamevnāva Bhāvanā Asapuva. Domeppa, Palagama. Monastery that used to be connected to Ven. Kiribathgoda Nānānanda’s ‘Mahamevnāva Asapuva’ tradition (see Kegalla section). Kuṭis in regrowth jungle in an abandoned rubber-estate on a hill in the Domeppa area. Well supported, clean.

Isigilikanda VMC. On a rock-hill with caves about 5 kms away from Kanduboda towards the north, near Naranvala, via Udupila. Hot. Currently there are no monks and it is not so suitable. Good views and a pool for bathing.

Kandy City

The ancient capital of the hill country. A fairly large town which is the home of the Temple of the Tooth-Relic (Sri Daladā Māligāvā), the headquarters of the Siam Nikāya, and the extensive Peradeniya University, which is nearby. There are some forests left on the hills and mountains. Temperate climate; cool at night.

Forest Hermitage, Udwattakele, c/o Buddhist Publication Society, PO Box 61, Kandy. Tel: 081–567 1653. The Forest Hermitage was established by Venerable Nyanatiloka Thera and Nyanaponika Thera in 1951. Venerable Nyanaponika lived here for 40 years and founded the BPS. If one wishes to visit, then it is recommended to write or telephone beforehand to the resident bhikkhu, Ven. Nāṇatūsita, or contact the BPS itself (see entry below). Visiting monks usually stay at the adjoining Senanayakārāma (see next entry). Laypeople who wish to visit should get a letter from the BPS that allows them to enter the forest reserve.

Senanayaka Ārāma, Udwattakele, Kandy. Situated in the 250 acres Udwattakele Forest Reserve—an ancient royal sanctuary—in the centre of Kandy. It is a small place about 20 minutes walk from the entrance of the forest, where foreign monks regularly stay. Five rooms. No kutis. There are usually two Sinhalese monks resident. Good facilities. Clean and tidy. The monks go on piṇḍapāta. Laymen can’t stay here. The chief resident monk is Ven. Samithadhamma. Aff. Vajirārāma Group.

Levella Meditation Centre, 160 Dharmashoka Mawatha, Kandy 20000. Tel. 081–4921814. A meditation centre/monastery in a suburb of Kandy (1.5 kms away from the centre of town). Formerly a lay retreat centre. The monastery consists of a house with a few rooms near the road, and 4 huts (kuṭis) higher on the slope, near the eastern edge of the Udwattakele. Abbot: Venerable Kamalasiri.

Potgul Vihāra, Anagarika Dharmapala Mawatha, Kandy. A few kutis. Near the Kandy lake and the Temple of the Tooth (Sri Dalidā Māligāva). On slope of Udwattakele Sanctuary, but noise from road. Western bhikkhus have stayed here and it can be convenient when visiting the Temple of the Tooth. Aff. Amarapura Nikāya.

Burmesse Resthouse, D.S. Senanayaka Mawatha. On the main street near Trinity College. Burmese vihāra on a major street in the centre of one. One or two Burmese monks are residing here. The place is popular with Western travellers as it is cheap and central.

Western bhikkhus have stayed here. Aff. Vaturavila.

Tanjan Tenna Area. Gilanhāla, Bhdadeka Vihari Upasthana Kutiya, Tanjan Tenna, Balangoda (Tel.: 045-360-9506) 23km southeast of Balangoda. Like Laggala, group of about 20 monks. At present several foreign monks are staying in this area. About 20 solitary kutis or rock shelters, ranging from simple to comfortable. Chief monk: Venerable Vimalanyana Thera speaks some English and is very helpful. The central meeting place is the Gilanhāla where there are facilities for sick monks and a library (Sinhala and English). Daily pindapata to the village nearest each kuti. The climate in the area is dry and warm. From the Balangoda Bus Stand catch busses either to Kaltota, Weele Oya, Kataragama, Hambegamuwa or Damweladaya. When traveling by bus, get off at the school bus halt at Tanjan Taenna (23 km post). 10 min. walk past the school to the Gihanâla. Affiliation: Galdüva.

Śrī Nandārāma. Udumulla, Bulatgama, via Balangoda. The late Ven. Balangoda Ānanda’s monastery. It has a large library with Ven. Ānanda’s large collection of books. A few kutis. Situated on a hill-top, scenic views over the mountains. Amarapura Nikâya.

Lellobitiya VBM. Lellobitiya 10 kms E of Ratnapura. The head monk is Ven. Piyananda, the Swejyin Mahânâyaka thera and Vinaya ācariya. Quite a large centre, with emphasis on study, well situated. Aff. Kanduboda.

Balangoda VMC. Thotupola-tenna, Balangoda. The head monk is Ven. Mahânâma who is very kind and helpful. Foreign monks have stayed there. A number of kutis, well situated atop a hill, good support from local village. Aff. Kanduboda.

Kalutara District

Coastal district. Hot and humid. On the inland hills, where it rains a lot, there are some small wilderness areas. Flat land along coast. Rubber and palm estates.

Kalugala AS. Pahalâhevessa, Badureliya, Mâtuğama. Tel: 034–394-5480. One of the nicest places in Sri Lanka in terms of seclusion and nature. Remotely situated inside a valley surrounded by hills. Western bhikkhus have stayed here for long periods. Meditative atmosphere & friendly monks. Good vinaya. Kutiś. Wet, dense forest with many leeches. Moderate temperature. Not a place which is suitable for beginners. Founded in 1942; see Carrithers, Forest Monks of SL, p. 178. Monks from both the Vatuvilâla Vanavâsin group and the Amarapura Nikâya stay here. From Kalutara take a bus to Mâtuğama, from there a bus to Badureliya, and then about an hour of walking. Or, when coming from the South along the Gâlla-Colombo road, take a bus from Aluthgama to Pelâvatta and walk for about 2 ½ hours.

Madakada AS. (Ingiriya A.) Ingiriya. Approx. half way on the Pånadura-Ratnapura Road. Forest in river-gulley. Wet. Ābbot: Ven. Mangala is friendly. Good vinaya. About 15 monks. This is the headquarters of a section of the Vatuvilâla group that keeps strict vinaya standards (not handling money, etc.) and follows the example of the Galdüva group. Aligned with this group are Salgâla Aranyâ and a number of other smaller aranyas.

Bodhinâgalâ A. Approx. half way on the Pånadura-Ratnapura Road, one mile before Ingiriya (see previous entry). There is a sign along the road. When traveling by bus, get off at Bodhinâgalâ Junction, and from there 3 kms walk. Forest monastery. Amarapura Nikâya.

Dhamadviya V. Kalâlivâlla, Alutgama. Y. Near the beach in a mangrove forest at the mouth of the Bentota Ganga. Warm and humid. The head monk, Ven. Sârananda, is very kind and helpful. He is teaching meditation at local ayurveda clinics, etc. A fairly large place, with about 15 monks. There are kutis among the mangroves, but the main attraction of this place is the little rock-island about 50 m. off the beach with a few kutis and a cave. It is accessible only by boat. A few western monks have stayed here. On the beach, visible from one side of the island, western girls in and out of bikinis might attract unrestrained eyes. At the 59 km post on Colombo-Gâlla Road. When traveling by bus, get off at the Blue Lagoon Hotel or at the big bridge over the Bentota River.

Tundola AS. Egodakanda, Polgâmpala, Mâtuğama, 12136. Via Mâtuğama and Agâlavatta. Not far from Kalugala. 6 kutiś on a hill. Rainforest with many leeches. From Mâtuğama take Pelvatta bus, get off at Polgâmpala.

Gālla District

Coastal district. Hot and humid. The headquarters of the forest traditions of Sri Lanka are in this district. Inland there are some fairly large wilderness areas on the hills and mountains such as the Sinharāja National Park. The Sinharaja area is the largest and wettest rainforest in Sri Lanka.

Island Hermitage. Polgasūva, Dodanduva, 80250. Located on two small forested islands in a tropical lagoon, 10 kms south of the beach resort of Hikkadūva. This famous place was founded by Ven. Nyanatiloka in the early 20th century. There is an large Pali, English, and German library. It used to be a major centre for Western Buddhism, and the first monastery built by and for Western bhikkhus. About 10 kus, most with inside and outside walking paths, and electricity. The monks go by boat to the mainland and then on pinnapāta daily. There are few monks at present, possibly because of over-strickness a few years ago. The Dutch monk, Ven. Jinavamso now lives here. If one wishes to visit, then it may be good to contact Ven. Mettāvīhāri beforehand at the Nārada Centre in Colombo, as he can make arrangements. The climate is generally humid and hot and there can be a bit of noise from birds, fishermen, and also from temples, etc., around the lake. Get off at Ratāgama junction (just south of Dodanduva), go to Katudampe, and ask for Mr Sunil who will arrange for a boat. Aff: Vajirārāma group.

Parappadāvu Island Hermitage, the neighbouring island (near the Katudampe Pansala village temple) used to be the site of Ayā Khemā's nuns monastery. Tel.: 091-309-4668. There are 2 monks at present, who are helpful and speak English. Senior monk: Ven. Bodhivamsa. The old buildings are being renovated. No pinnapāta but may be possible by arrangement. Aff: Vajirārāma group.

Shri Gunavardhana Y. or Galdūva A. Galdūva, Kahava. Between Ambalangoda and Hikkadūva. The headquarters of the Sri Kalyāna Yogasāhrāma Samsthāva, i.e. the main forest monastery tradition in Sri Lanka. Ven. Ariyadhāmman was formerly the abbot of this monastery, as well as the head of the Galdūva group, but now lives at Dharmāyatana, Meetirigala. Abbot: Somavamsa Thero. This monastery is mainly a training centre for junior monks, a pirivena. There are Buddha-Pujas three times a day and the young monks do a lot of study. Many novices, monks and laypeople. Noisy. The climate is hot and humid as it is situated in a palm-estate area on the edge of a coastal swamp. Aff: Galdūva.

Vanavāsa Sangha Mūlāsthānaya or Vaturavila A. Vaturavila, Tibbotuweva, Kahadūva. About 20 kms northeast of Hikkadūva. The headquarters of the 15th Vaturavila group. One section is a large pirivena with many novices; the other forest-monastery. Aff: Vaturavila.

Kottāva Nāga A. or Nāga A. Kottāva, Kottagama. 12 kms E of Gālla. Take bus to Udāgama from Gālla and get off at Kottāva junction. About 50 acres of forest on small hills with a stream running through it. Fairly quiet. Warm & humid. Several kuttis. At present the Austrian bhikkhu Ven. Nāṇasanta, who was formerly at the Island Hermitage, is residing here. Aff: Vaturavila.

Triputaka DA. (Koggala A.). Vedduwa, Koggala, Habarādūva 80630. 10 kms SW of Gālla. Abbot: Ven. Anuruddha. Originally a meditation monastery, but it is now more study orientated. The monastery comprises of a number of buildings and nice kuttis situated on a raised elevation of land jutting out into a lagoon and approached by a causeway. There are crocodiles in the lagoon. Hot and humid. Pinnapāta possible. Aff: Galdūva.

Diviyāgala AS. Kosgoda 80570. 10 kms south of Bentota. The headmonk, Ven. Dhammāsaļa Mahāthera, has been a long time resident of Nissarana Vanaya. Quiet, nice patch of forest, about 6 monks. Good kuttis. At times hot and humid. Good library, also English books. Good food and pandana in the evening. Forest hermitage. Aff.: Galdūva.

Sinhalena Tapovanaya. Kosmulla, Neluvā 80802. About 50 kms NE of Gālla, 30 kms E of Ambalangoda. Abbot: Ven. Jinavamsa. A small forest monastery on the western edge of the large Sinharāja Rainforest National Park. Dense rainforest with streams and waterfalls etc. Wet and humid, leeches, moderately cool climate. To get here, take a bus from Gālla to Neluvā and then walk for about 2 hours up a mountain through the tea plantations. Western bhikkhus have stayed here. Aff: Tapovanaya Group.

Situlpāva.

Generally flat land, but there is the Vedahitakanda near Katara Vaturavila.

A. unknown. Tummodara. AS. Kirinda A. Coastal district. Hot and humid. Some small wilderness areas, but generally developed. Flat land along coast, inland no one stays here at present.

Mātara District

Coastal district. Hot and humid. Some small wilderness areas, but generally developed. Flat land along coast, inland some hills.

Ellakanda AS. Kekanadura 81020. 10 kms E of Mātara. Abbot: Ven. Sudhamma. A very calm therā with learning and experience in meditation. A meditation centre situated in a state forest on a peninsula surrounded by a reservoir. Foreign monks have stayed here. 15–20 monks. Good kūṭis. Warm, humid, dense forest. There is only one meal a day and there are group meditation settings. Catch Yatiyana bus from Matara and get off at Apataenna. Aff. Galdūva. Has a branch, Pasādikā A., at Valasmulla which offers more seclusion.

Kirinda A. Kirinda. 15 kms NE of Mātara. Old forest on a hill. A historical place, as it is the oldest continually occupied forest monastery in Sri Lanka, founded by Ven. Paññāṇanda, the founder of the Rāmaṇīya nikāya, in the early 1850’s; see Carrithers, Forest Monks of SL p. 69f. Aff. Deldūva.

Hambantota District

Probably the driest district in Sri Lanka, especially along the coast. Hot. Some large wilderness areas such as Yala. Generally flat land, but there is the Vedahitakanda near Kataragama.

Nimalāva AS. Kirinda, Tissamahārāmaya 82614. 12 kms SE of Tissamahārāmaya. About 3 kms walking from Kirinda on the way to Yala National Park. Founded in 1951; see Carrithers, Forest Monks of SL p. 212. Abbot: Ven. Dhammadassī, a very strict Mahāthera. A large forest monastery. It is rather hot in the dry season. Ancient cave kūṭis under boulders in the jungle. It is bordering Yala National Park and therefore there are elephants and other wildlife such as crocodiles. Foreign monks have stayed here. There is chanting/vandana 3 times a day, but one can be exempted. About the driest climate in Sri Lanka. The piṅḍapāta starts at 9 am (About 25–30 minutes, the monks are usually driven back.) A new retreat centre with 7 restored rock shelters, called Tammana, is less than 1 km, about 15–20 minutes walking, from the original centre, the piṅḍapāta taking consequently that much longer. One can stay there and only have breakfast at the Nimalāva monastery. Usually only one monk stays in Tammana.

From here it is worthwhile to visit the ancient forest monastery of Situlpāva in Yāla National Park; see next entry. Aff. Galdūva.

Situlpāva. Accessible from Tissamahārāma, Kirinda, or Kataragama. It is easiest to walk along the access-road from Tissa and get a lift with the pilgrim-buses or jeeps going there. From Nimalāva go to main (Kirinda-road) National Park entrance and then take the boundary track north to the Tissa entrance. A large, ancient cave-monastery. There are ancient ruins and probably more than a hundred cave-kūṭis situated on and along large 70 meter high granite boulders sticking out of the jungle. It is mentioned in a Sinhalese Buddhist song as a place where there were so many arahants flying in the sky that they obscured the sunlight and the farmers could not grow their crops. The incumbent monk of the place is Ven. Hemaratana thera, a Siyam Nikāya temple monk who speaks English well. Forest monks can stay in the cave kūṭis (after asking permission from head monk.) Food can be gotten from the temple and from pilgrims who come to see the stupas and ruins. There are many animals, some are dangerous, including elephants. There are also a few rest-houses where laypeople can stay. About mid-way between the Tissa entrance and Situlpāva there is a smaller ancient aranya called Makulvihāra under a large rock. No one stays here at present.
Madunāgala A. Koggala. 15 kms north of Ambalantota, east of Siyambalagoda, north of Ridiyagama Veva. An ancient cave monastery on a remote, quiet forested rock-outcrop ridge, northeast of Ridiyagama Veva, and surrounded by shrubby lowland. Hot, dry climate. Founded in 1946 by the founder of the Vaturavila Vanavāsin group, Vaturavila Nānananda; see Forest Monks of Sri Lanka p. 184. About 10 cave kutis. There is a cetiya on top of one of the big boulders. Aff: Vaturavila. Nearby, about 15 mins. walking to the southwest, is another monastery called Karambagala Aranya; see next entry. To get here, take a bus from Ambalantota (at the clocktower) to Koggala and walk about 7 kms. There are also buses to Suriyaveva, which come closer (3 kms) but are less frequent. From Embilipitiya, take a bus to Suriyaveva and get out at Mahāpelewa, then walk about 7 kms to the monastery, passing the hot springs, and take the road to the east of the ridge. At night, elephants roam in the jungle.

Karambagala A. This monastery, including Madunāgala, was founded in King Gotrabhaya’s time and the monks claim that it is the Kurāndaka Monastery of the arahant Cittagutta, whose cave, mentioned in the Visuddhamagga (Ch. 1 § 104ff) is now the shrine room. The monastery was refounded early in the 20th century. There are many rock overhangs on this rocky hill. Some have been converted into kutis. On top of the 100 m high hill is a cetiya. In 2006 the place was inhabited by one 29 year old bhikkhu and 18 young novices. The novices go to a pirivena. The monastery is not well kept. One can go for piṇḍapāta in the Karambamula village a few kms. away.

Bundala Kuṭi. A single kuṭi near the village of Bundala, Hambantota district. For lovers of solitude. In dune-shrubland in the Bundala National Park near the sea. There are a few elephants in the forest. The kuṭi was built for Ven. Nāṇapūra in the late fifties. He died in 1965 and since then many western bhikkhus have stayed here. Piṇḍapāta in the village, which is about 10 minutes away. Dry hot climate. PTS Pali Tipiṭaka books are kept in the main dayaka’s house in the village. There is some noise from the nearby road.

Haputale District / Uva province

The southern edge of the hill country. Cool climate and spectacular views over the southern lowland. Mostly tea and vegetable estates.

Kolatenna Hermitage. Bandāravela. A place founded by the Czech monk, Ven. Nyānasatta, in the 1960’s where western bhikkhus stayed for a long time, but at present the only residents are Sinhalese bhikkhus. Rooms for about 6 persons, good library. Piṇḍapāta. Some noisy dogs. Not very clean. Over 1000m altitude, cool climate. Surrounded by village and tea-estates on a mountain-slope above village-areas. Noise from temples, an army-camp, and the surrounding villages. From Bandāravela walk approx. 2 kms on the upper Haputale Road, then at the railway crossing turn to the right, or walk along the railway line from Bandāravela. Aff. Galdūva.

Piyangala A. Velihelagama, Diyatalāva 90150. Small aranya with a few kuṭis on a slope with pineforest in a quiet river-valley 4 kms south of Dīyatalāva. Cool climate. Probably a few monks from Kahagolla are residing here, ask the way at Kahagolla A. Cave nearby.

Bandāravela Mahamevnāva Bhāvanā Asapuva. Kumbalvela, Bandāravela. Tel. 057-492-6447. Monastery on the slope of a remote tea estate on a steep mountain about 10 km from Bandāravela on the road to Badulla (Not Aella). Kutis, with covered walking paths along a road going through the tea estate. No electricity. Nice views; cool climate.
Monarāgala District

There are many small aranyas in this undeveloped area, with limited support and water, and facilities for only a few monks. Hot climate with a dry season. Mountains, hills, and flat land.

Tarulenagala A. / Habutulagala A. Hulanuge, Monarāgala 71000. Between Siyambalandāva and Lahugala National Park, along Monarāgala–Pottuvil Road. Small place with a large rockshelter with an ancient lying Buddha statue and Veddha drawings. On top of the hill is the Yodala, supposedly the longest rockshelter in SL, about 200 m. long. There are also other caves. Take a bus from Monaragala. If you pass the Lahugala National Park to the east then look out of the bus as there are usually several elephants grazing in the marshes. Aff: Galdūva.

Badulla district

The eastern edge of the mountain country. Cool climate with less rain than the western and central mountains and therefore quite agreeable for Westerners. Tea estates with some remnant forest and wilderness areas. Strangely enough, there seem to be no aranyas or meditation centres in this district. The low country east of the mountains around Bibile is also part of this district. This area has a hot climate and a dry season.

Mahasuddharshana AS. Gadugodaveva, Pahala-oya-gama, Ėraṇiya. (Between Mahiyangana and Bibile). Aff: Vaturavila.

Ampāra District

This area has a lot of ancient monasteries, but due to the former armed conflict they were not redeveloped or were abandoned. Now most of the area is accessible again and some ancient monasteries are being developed again, notably Kudumbigala A. There is a lot of wilderness in this area. It has a hot climate and a dry season.

Kudumbigala Mahā Tapovanaya. Helewa Eliya, Pānama. Tel.: 068-567-4944. Near Okanda, 15 kms south of Pānama. At 12 km post there is a sign, then 3kms inland from main road. Ancient cave monastery. New abbot: Ven. Buddhavamsa is very friendly and helpful. Very good place for individual practice with optional pujas. Spectacular setting on the eastern border of Yala National Park, very remote, caves, wild animals. The monastery had gone through a difficult period due to the violent death in 1989 of its founder Ānandasiri during the Marxist uprising and then the conflict in the East. It was uninhabited during 1999–2001 due to the presence of Tamil Tigers. Pictures and a history of the place and its founder can be found in Carrithers' Forest Monks of Sri Lanka. About 10-15 monks or novices at present. 15 caves are prepared. Recently, much work, which is ongoing, has been done to improve the water supply, rebuild kuṭis and a new dining hall. etc. Water can be a problem and at present 20 min. walk to bathe. There are other abandoned ancient monasteries in jungles in the area, such as Bambargastalāva. To get here, take a bus from Monarāgala to Pottuvil or Pānama. One can either walk, or get a lift with a bus or private vehicle going to the Monastery or Okanda. About an hours walk to the coast at Okanda, with large beaches, a Katarama Deva shrine, and the new Kumana National Park Headquarters and Museum. Aff: Galdūva.
Shastravella A. Between Pānama and Pottuvil. Get off the bus at the army camp. Ancient cave monastery on forested rocky hill ridge which runs east from the army camp up to the the mouth of the Heen Oya River. Abandoned pansala. One cave is high on a rock overlooking Ārugam Bay, but is not suitable due to visiting tourists. Elephants and other wildlife, and little noise, but the pansala area can be noisy with villagers. Near Pānama are other ancient abandoned cave monasteries including Vevavehera near the reservoir (veva) 3 kms west of Pānama.

Sumangala A. Kohombana, via Uhana. Huge caves on rocky hill. Quite remote; a 4 kms walk to the nearest village. Good solitude. Two monks at present, but there is a police post and the place is supported by the army.

Negombo and Chilaw Area

Coastal area known for its beaches. Popular with tourists. Predominately Christian area. Hot and humid.

Kurunāgala District

There are many aranyas and monasteries in Kurunāgala district. The better known ones are Nā-Uyana A. and Arankele A. People in this district are known for their strong faith. Warm climate. Hills and flatland. There are wilderness areas on and around the hills. On every hill in this area there are likely to be ancient cave kuṭis.

Na Uyana AS. Pansiyagama. See Best Places section above.

Arahatta Māliyadeva AS. or Arankele A. Arankele, Kumbukueva, Kurunāgala District. On the site of the medieval Paṃsakula Sect monastery, about 15 or more kuṭis and caves. Good library with a few English books. A few Westerners have stayed here. This is the ancient cave monastery where the Sinhalese arahant Māliyadeva lived, thus the name aran (arahant) + āle (forest). His simple cave can still be visited. It is an archeological site with extensive ruins of an old monastery. About 10 monks19 (some speak English). From Kurunāgala, take a bus towards Madagalla, and get off at Bodāgalla. Amarpura Nikāya.

Ruvangirkanda A. Karagahagedara, Nārammala 60106. 15 kms SW of Kurunāgala, 7 kms from Nārammala to Junction, then about 8 kms from the main road. Forested hill with a nice cave-kuṭi on top with a good view and walking path. Also other cave-kuṭis and ordinary kuṭis. Good walking paths. Foreign monks have stayed here. Quiet and suitable for meditation. Aff. Galdūva.

Nāgolla A. also known as: Devahuva A. or Gomoktāva A. Nāgolla, Bulanaveva, Devahuva, Galivelwa 21206. (On Kurunāgala-Anurādhapura Rd.). Turn off at the Mosque and then walk along the cart road to the aranya. An ancient cave monastery on a large hill. A few monks. Ancient cetiya. Forest with iron-wood-trees and big rocks. Small monastery with only a few kutis and caves. Aff. Galdūva.

Dolukanda A. / Rankotena AS. Dolukanda, Hunupola, Nikadalupotha 60582. Not far from Arankele Aranya in Kurunāgala District. Ancient Cave Monastery. On lower forested slope of the Dolukanda mountain. (The ancient Arankele monastery is on the other side of the mountain.) A few big caves. On top of the mountain, which is a long climb, there is a partly forested plateau with an ancient palace and fortress; the bathing pond can still be seen. There is a cave and nearby kuti on one side of the plateau. Coming from Arankele, first go to Hiripitiya, then 7 km from there. Aff. Galdūva.

Jathika Namal Uyana. Upalathagama, Galkiriyagama, Madatugama. Small aranya cum pansala on a hill in a fairly large forested area. Ancient stupa and ruins. Rose-quartz rock-outcrops. The abbot, Ven. Vanavasi Rāhula, is trying to protect the quartz. 10 kms north from Devahuva A. (see above this section.)

Ridivihāra Kelepantsala. Cave kuti on a forested hill about half an hour walk from this ancient vihāra belonging to the Malvatta Nāyaka thera. Fairly quiet. Pindapāta to nearby village. There are also several other caves in the forest. The abbot of Ridi Vihāra needs to be consulted if one wishes to stay here. From Kurunāgala take the Kepitigolla bus and get out at the Ridivihāra Devāla and walk to Ridivihāra. Aft. Sīyam Nikāya.

Bambaragala MC. Moratiya. On the Kurunāgala–Kepitagolla Rd. Less than 10 kms from Kurunāgala. A place set up as a meditation centre, but the founder went abroad. Kuṭis and a large unfinished Dhamma-hall on a forested hill.

Mātale District

The Tipiṭaka was probably first written down at the Aluvihāra near Mātale town. The northern part of the hill and mountain country. Some large wilderness areas.

Laggala Forest Area. There are a number of kuṭis with excellent seclusion in the large wilderness area between the eastern slopes of the Knuckles Mountain Range (Dumbara Kanda), E of Mātale, and the Vaggamuva National Reserve, SW of Polonnaruwa. Conditions are simple and sometimes tough. Open 3 wall kuṭis and caves, small remote villages, sometimes long and rough pīndapāta routes and very simple food, (a small) chance of malaria, elephants, leopards, and bears. A place for those who are lovers of intense solitude and who are experienced in bhāvana. This is not a place for newcomers and inexperienced monks. The villagers don’t know English and some knowledge of Sinhala is required in order to be able to communicate. Ven. New Zealand Guttasila, who lives in the area, may be able to help newcomers. For photographs of this area see: Nyanatusita Picasa Album.

Cetiya Giriya, Mānāmaldeniya, Pallepola. On a rocky hill 20 kms NW of Mātale. Moderately cool climate. Small place, only 2 or 3 monks. A few kuṭis and caves. Two caves, some distance away, are independent. Aft. Vajirārāma group.

Gallenavatta AS. Etābendiveva Pāra, Pannampitiya. Turn left off the Mātale-Dambulla Rd about 8 kms before Dambulla, then about 1.5 kms Caves in the base of a hill. Kuṭis close to each other, but there are many other caves in this area. A few bhikkhus and several novices. Further on the road there are ancient ruins. Friendly abbot. Aft. Vaturavila.

Enderagala S. Palwehera, Dambulla (6 kms north of Dambulla, on Habarana Rd.). This is now the headquarters of a small group of monasteries that broke away from Vaturavila. Mihindu A. in Mahintale, and Ritigala A. are affiliated with this group.

Pidurangala. Pidurangala Rājamahāvihāra, Pidurangala, Sigiriya. Less than a km E of Sigiriya rock, near ancient monastery ruins. It can be reached by leaving Sigiriya through the Northern Gate. Several ancient cave kuṭis under a large boulder-hill in the Sigiriya forest above a well kept village temple. Some kuṭis have been prepared under the rocks, but might not have been for a number of years as the pirivena is not a meditation centre. The friendly head monk will be supportive if one wishes to stay in one of the caves. Near the top of the boulder there is an ancient reclining Buddha image. From Habarana get off at Inamalava Junction.
Māliyadeva Devala Lena Vihāraya. Elkadūva Pāra, Punchi Mola, Vatsegama. A large compound built around a small cave where the arahant Māliyadeva is supposed to have stayed. On a mountain with forest and waterfall. The place belongs to a Siyam Nikāya scholar monk who comes for retreats here. Building work in progress.

Batticaloa District

Some areas in the eastern district of Batticaloa have not been accessible for a long time due to the armed conflict. There are some nice ancient Buddhist sites on the hills in this district. Hot climate with dry season. Undeveloped and poor. Inland there are some large wilderness areas.

Piyangala AS. Rājagalatennā 32068. Near Mayadunna, near Bakiella. North of Uhana, midway along the Amapara–Maha Oya Road. 25 kms southwest of Batticaloa. Large forest area (1 square mile) bordering a wildlife sanctuary and the extensive ruins of the ancient Rājagala monastery situated on top of the mountain, which is a few kms. away from the aranya. Some caves. One bhikkhu and one novice are staying here. The place is run down and near to houses and a road. Aff. Galdūva.

Veheragala A. Maha Oya. Midway on the Mahiyangana-Batticaloa Road. Ancient cave monastery on a hill, about 1 km from the Maha Oya hot springs. This aranya was abandoned after a hurricane destroyed the buildings in the late eighties. No monks at present. There are 4 caves kuṭīs which are inhabitable. Near houses, but on edge Maduru Oya National Park.

Omuna A. Ancient cave monastery in Maduru Oya National Park, about 10 km further along the road from Veheragala. Some caves apparently have been restored in recent times, but there are no monks at present. On the way to here from Veheragala is the Hinagalā cave.

Nuvaragala. Ancient monastery site with caves on 21 spectacular rock formations. No monks or modern buildings. Best to access from northern, Maha Oya side.

Polonnaruva District

The second ancient capital of Sri Lanka. There are quite a few ancient monasteries on the hills and rocks in this area. Hot climate with dry season. Low country with some hills and rock-outcrops. Some large national parks. An undeveloped and poor area.

Sinhapura VMC. Sinhapura, Polonnaruva. Head Monk: Ven. Samvuta. 2 or 3 kuṭīs and a compound. There is also an Upasikā-ārāmaya (nunery) in the grounds, where dasa-sīl-menayo Dhammanandā teaches meditation. For those who like a hot climate. Aff. Kunduboda.

Dimbulagala MC. Dimbulagala. 20 kms SE of Polonnaruva. Large ancient cave-monastery on a rocky mountain ridge. Nice views from the hill. In the front section is a pirivena (monastic school) with about 100 sāmaṇeras, and there is an aranya area with about 15 monks (pirivena teachers) in the back. Interesting place but not well kept. Aff. Amarapura Nikāya.

Anurādhapura District

Anurādhapura was the ancient capital of Sri Lanka and the cradle of Sinhalese Buddhist culture. It has a hot climate with a dry season. Mostly flat land with some lonely hills and rock-outcrops. There are many man-made tanks (veva). West of Anurādhapura is the large Vilpattu National Park known for its wildlife. Most of the province is undeveloped. Mihintale, east of Anurādhapura, has many old caves.
Kaludiya Pokuna Tapovanaya. Mihintale. Tel.: 071-842-1278. Ven. Saddhājīva, the Abbot, is very kind. Nicely situated near the Kaludiya Pokuna bathing pond, which is below the Mihintale Hill. Ritigala A. Ganevalpola, Ke kirāva. The ancient cave monastery on the eastern lower slope of Ritigalakanda mountain. It is visible from the Kurunāgala–Anurādhapura Rd. The aranya is about 2 kilometers to the east from Galapitigala on the northern slope of the mountain range. The first Sinhalese arahant, Aritṭha stayed here. The aranya is in a nature reserve; a large forest with elephants and bears. 25 minutes walking from the aranya are the ruins of the large ancient monastery, which are taken care of by the Archeological Dept. The monastery isn’t well kept. A few elderly bhikkhus and some young novices stay here. The best cave kuti is about 10 minutes walking up the slope under a big rock with a nice view from its top. Currently a stupa is being constructed on a rock above the monastery. Take a bus from Ke kirāva to Habarana and get off at Gatalipigala, walk one hour through the forest, be careful of elephants. Aff. Vaturavila.
